Tummy Tingler – Better than an antacid for an upset stomach

There aren't too many things more unnerving than eating exotic foods that still have eyes and ears attached. Well except maybe speaking in public. But right now you'd rather address the world on live television than keep poking at the local appetizer that's making you sick to your stomach. Good thing you have this ideal everyday bag to keep the rest of your life and body elements organized. It holds what you always need nearby. The sweet new Tummy Tingler has a cool overlapping wave design and it can't decide if it wants to be your new best friend or your best accessory holder.
