PRESS RELEASE

(APPLE EXPO) PARIS, FRANCE, 15 SEP 2008 — Canto® will join partner Idea7 at this year's Apple Expo, Paris, September 17–20. (hall 5, booth J19)

Idea7 provides a number of Cumulus-enhancing products, such as Web Suite Pro, Indexer Pro and Dicom medical image cataloging. Representatives from Idea7 and Canto will be on hand to answer questions and offer demonstrations of Cumulus 7.6, the most recent release of the Cumulus product line.

Among the most popular new features of Cumulus 7.6 is built-in rendering for PDF files, which ensures high-quality thumbnails and PDF previews from any supported platform, including the Web. Adobe® Acrobat® isn't required, so organizations can potentially save thousands on redundant Acrobat licenses.

PowerPoint creation is also now available from any supported platform, including the Web. New presentations can be created from images, slides or presentations, and PowerPoint is not required. Cumulus 7.6 can pack new presentations into ready-to-go single files that include all contained images, making presentations easy to email or copy to thumb drives for quick and easy readiness on any computer.

“Cumulus 7.6 has been a very popular release,” says Canto Marketing Director Steffen Setzer. “It's performing well, it's stable, and the new PDF, PowerPoint and watermarking features have been welcomed by our users.”

Watermarking support in Cumulus 7.6 enables users to “stamp” images with standard marks or, with a feature upgrade, “persistent” invisible watermarks that withstand edits, and remain detectable even when copied into other images.

Enhanced metadata support for many additional file formats was also included.
