Canto Cumulus 8.0.2 Released

Update offers support for Windows 7, MacOS X Snow Leopard, and numerous fixes.

BERLIN, 10 SEP 2009 — Canto® today announced the release of Canto Cumulus 8.0.2, the second scheduled update to the Cumulus 8 product line, released last May.

Among almost 100 fixes and improvements offered by the update are compatibility with Microsoft Windows 7, due in October, and Mac OS X Snow Leopard (10.6), released in August.

“Cumulus 8.0.2 was the perfect time for us to add support for Snow Leopard and Windows 7 in a single update,” says Canto CTO Thomas Schleu. “And now that Cumulus 8 has been tuned twice since its initial release, we can turn our main development focus to taking advantage of all the new capabilities the new architecture makes possible.”

Canto recommends the Cumulus 8.0.2 update to all customers.

Updates are available free of charge to all customers on active service agreements. Customers whose service agreements have expired should contact their Canto representative for upgrade information.
