FOR IMMEDIATE PUBLICATION

Canvys FlatMedic™ - Displays with long-term availability, approved for use in a medical environment

Canvys – consultancy, design, development and implementation of extensive solutions for visual technologies in the health sector, for OEMs and in digital signage

Donaueschingen – 2009-08-12. The medical FlatMedic™ displays from Canvys are highly regarded in the world of medicine thanks to their reliability, functionality, quality and outstanding value.

Canvys offers a complete range of displays approved for use in a medical environment, available in 15, 17 and 19" sizes and with VESA attachments. They are typically used for patient monitoring and management, dental applications in hospitals and doctors' surgeries and as replacement displays for CRT monitors. As the displays use components offering long-term availability, identical display configuration can be ensured over at least two years. This saves the user lengthy, cost-intensive and laborious function and installation tests.

All displays have the approvals required by law, such as CE, EN60601-1-1, EN60601-1-2 and cUL60601.

Customized configuration options

The displays can be fitted with the following options on request:

- Touch screen (resistive)
- Video input
- Safety glass
- IPX1 protection

Customized solutions can even be produced for small numbers of units. Such customizations include adding logos, configuring the displays with customized timings or shipping the displays in customized packaging.

The devices are available right now from Canvys.

Technical details and prices available on request.

Please see contact information above for details on the available options.
