VARTA Microbattery at WT Show of MEDICA 2012

Ellwangen, 14 November 2012

VARTA Microbattery presents rechargeable and primary batteries for maximum requirements at the Wearable Technologies Show of MEDICA 2012 in hall 15, booth C03 in Düsseldorf.

The product portfolio includes special power pack solutions which can be inserted into medical products, H₂-Gas Generating Cells, reliable Silver Oxide Button Cells and new Nickel-Zinc Button Cells from VARTA Microbattery. ZR Button Cells Nickel-Zinc are the ideal addition and an alternative to the Silver Oxide technology. Moreover, the leading battery manufacturer will show the award winning VARTA CoinPower Lithium-Ion cells in the exhibition which are an ideal battery solution for medical applications, for example insulin pumps.

We are looking forward to your visit at our joint booth or under www.varta-microbattery.com
