

V-Band finaly seal !

V-Band systems knows everybody. But only a few got them sealed.

The TurboZentrum Berlin reacts to a lot of sad clients about unsealed V-Band systems. After the well working gasket paste they are developed a real gasket for the V-Band Rings. It is the same stainless steel gasket with a crimt like it is used at the turbochargers. Same material, heat resistant and quality like at every other turbo-gasket of the berlin guys.

This new gasket-rings has the same measurements like the v-band rings and were just putted between them. By tightening the clamp, the rings pressed together and the gasket with it. Finaly seal !

best regards,
