Leonberg, June 2014 – Acoustic offensive. TECHART Automobildesign provides distinctive sound for the new Porsche Panamera models (MY 2014). The Porsche Panamera S and 4S, as well as the Porsche Panamera Turbo models can be equipped with TECHART Exhaust Systems Sport. For the latter they can also be ordered with valve-control.

TECHART Exhaust System Sport with valve-control for Porsche Panamera Turbo models (MY 2014).

Matching the TECHART Power Kit TA 070/T1 for the new Porsche Panamera Turbo models (MY 2014), TECHART Automobildesign audibly emphasises the performance of the 4.8l V8 Bi-Turbo engine through the TECHART Exhaust System Sport with valve-control. By pressing the Sport- or Sport Plus button at centre console the sound of the sports limousine gets significantly richer and more robust. The TECHART Exhaust System Sport with valve-control can be used even when closed under full load across the entire speed range. It consists of TECHART Mufflers with integrated exhaust valves left/right.

The TECHART Sport Tailpipes in stainless steel in typical dual oval design with embossed TECHART logotype allow their observers to recognize the limousine's power even without using the ignition key. Selectively available in polished stainless steel or stainless steel in black finish, they fit to the rear of the four-seater stylishly.

TECHART Automobildesign also shows its innovative capacity at the rear of the new Porsche Panamera Turbo models with the TECHART Exhaust System Sport. Thus the sound characteristics of the 4.8l V8 Bi-Turbo engines get memorable significance. The TECHART Exhaust System Sport consists of TECHART Mufflers and TECHART Sport Tailpipes in stainless steel and dual oval tube design with embossed TECHART logotype. They can be ordered in polished or black finished surface.
