Crime Scene Investigation

Investigation today

During the first denunciation the investigators have to structure many tasks and work very accurate during the gathering of evidence.

- : Eliminating sources of danger
- : Documentation of the crime scene
- : Interviewing the witnesses
- : Marking traces
- : Evaluating and securing the traces

The digitalisation and the assignment of tracks is very time consuming for investigators.

- : Input of the handwritten notes
- : Manual verification of completeness and correctness of all information
- : Belated allocation of evidence pictures

The current way of proceeding causes many problems to investigators.

- : Unnecessary risk of mistakes
- : Double accounting
- : No central data acquisition
- : No verification of integrity
- : Information redundancy
