

A cloud-based platform for the management and sharing of relevant data on C parts between customers and suppliers

Inter-function and inter-company technology database

Elimination of redundant structures

Reduction in administrative work

Increased transparency along the added-value chain

Unambiguity between customers' and suppliers' data