Continuous lowering and more driving dynamics: ST coilover kits with KW damper technology

All ST suspensions coilover kits are manufactured in Germany at KW automotive, a part certificate is included and they have a tested, vehicle-specific adjustment range for a maximum, continuously adjustable lowering. While the KW coilover struts and damper housings are exclusively made of stainless steel or aluminum, the suspension manufacturer relies on galvanized steel housings for their ST suspensions coilovers. Compared to many suspension systems on the market, the ST suspensions stand out in the low price segment due to the KW damper technology they utilize. For this reason, the ST coilovers give every vehicle a significant increase in driving dynamics, without that, the rolling and driving comfort in everyday life suffers. Similar to KW suspensions, the dampers on ST coilovers can be adjusted individually. While the KW coilover systems, depending on the version, have adaptive dampers or a wide range of independent damper settings, the ST coilovers allow to adjust the low speed rebound with up to 16 clicks. The amount of the ST Cash Back refund varies depending on the type of ST coilover kit selected from the campaign. When buying a ST XTA coilover kit, with its rebound adjustable dampers and aluminum unibal top mounts, you will get a refund of 200 Euro*. If you decide to get a ST XA coilover kit, also rebound adjustable, you will receive a cash back of 160 Euro*; while the refund for the ST X coilovers equipped with a fixed damper setup is 120 Euro* for each purchased suspension. The promotional period is valid from May 1st to July 31st, 2017 and all further information on the "ST Cash Back" program, including the list of applicable vehicles & products, are available at www.st-suspensions.net/cash-back.

* = The mentioned rebate differs from VAT, shipping costs and regions. The shown prices are for the German market and 19% VAT included.
