

SPEEDLINK Nintendo DSi XL accessories right on time for the launch

According to Nintendo, the new DSi XL console will be available in Europe from 5 March – and SPEEDLINK will be right there at the launch with a range of matching accessories!

Weertzen, 12.02.2010 – SPEEDLINK, one of Europe's leading manufacturers of PC and video console accessories, will be offering a range of matching accessories for the new handheld right from when the Nintendo DSi XL goes on sale. The SPEEDLINK accessories have been specifically designed for the new console – something that's clearly reflected both in terms of their function and design.

The Neo Premium-Sleeve from SPEEDLINK is a sleeve made from especially soft and hardwearing neoprene. Its colours reflect the new NDSi XL colours of Wine Red and Dark Brown so owners of the new Nintendo handheld can kit their console out in matching colours. In addition to the NDSi™ XL, the cleverly laid out internal pockets offer enough space for up to 7 games plus one large and one normal-sized replacement Touch Pen.

The 12in1 Starter Kit offers everything an NDSi XL gamer could ever need. Along with a carry pouch, the specially selected bundle of SPEEDLINK accessories includes a charger for the car, game cases, a wrist strap, one large and two normal-sized replacement Touch Pens, plus XL-sized screen protector films for both screens. What's more, the micro-fibre cloth makes it easy to keep the NDSi™ XL looking in tip-top condition at all times.

The four screen protectors in the Screen Protection Twin-Set don't just protect the screens against scratches – they also reduce light reflection, and can be removed without leaving a trace. The set also comes with that all-important micro-fibre cloth.

With the Travel Touchpen Set, gamers get a set of Touch Pens which each feature a protective tip with a special long-life coating that doesn't damage the touch screen – on top of that, they also fit perfectly into the Nintendo DSi™ XL stylus slot.
