HoloPro™ established in the field of TV applications

For years there have been many applications in which HoloPro™ can be seen on television. The latest is the application for Galileo, Pro7, shown below:

This is not the first time Pro7 have decided to use a HoloPro™. The light-guiding effect of the embedded holograms in a HoloPro™ makes it the best possible medium for this application. It defies all ambient light, showing a picture that is always brilliant.

Since HoloPro™ is available in different sizes and also as a complete system, it can be used in a whole variety of ways. Here are some more tried and tested TV or TV studio applications:
