München, 21. Juli 2010 — VMware, weltweiter Marktführer von Virtualisierungslösungen für Desktopsysteme, Rechenzentren und Cloud-Infrastrukturen, gibt seine Finanzergebnisse für das zweite Quartal 2009 bekannt:

- Die Einnahmen betrugen im zweiten Quartal 674 Millionen US-Dollar, das entspricht einer Zunahme um 48 Prozent im Vergleich zum zweiten Quartal 2009.
- Der GAAP Betriebsgewinn für das zweite Quartal war 101 Millionen US-Dollar, das entspricht einer Zunahme um 166 Prozent im Vergleich zum zweiten Quartal 2009. Der Nicht-GAAP Betriebsgewinn für das zweite Quartal betrug 187 Millionen US-Dollar, das entspricht einer Zunahme um 94 Prozent im Vergleich zum zweiten Quartal 2009.
- Der GAAP Gewinn für das zweite Quartal betrug 75 Millionen US-Dollar oder 0,18 US-Dollar pro Aktie, im Vergleich zu 33 Millionen US-Dollar oder 0,08 US-Dollar pro Aktie im zweiten Quartal 2009. Der Nicht-GAAP Gewinn für das zweite Quartal betrug 142 Millionen US-Dollar oder 0,34 US-Dollar pro Aktie, im Vergleich zu 80 Millionen US-Dollar oder 0,20 US-Dollar pro Aktie im zweiten Quartal 2009.
- Flüssige und gleichwertige Mittel sowie kurzfristige Investitionen zum Stichtag 30. Juni 2010 betrugen 2,8 Milliarden US-Dollar, das entspricht einem Zuwachs von 21 Prozent im Vergleich zum Vorjahr. Die gesamten aufgeschobenen Einkünfte belaufen sich auf 1,5 Milliarden US-Dollar, das ist eine Zunahme von 58 Prozent im Vergleich zum Vorjahreszeitraum.
- Für die letzten zwölf Monate, die zum 30. Juni 2010 endeten, betrug der laufende Cashflow 1,2 Milliarden US-Dollar, das entspricht einem Wachstum von 33 Prozent im Vergleich zum gleichen Zeitraum vor einem Jahr.

Die Einnahmen in den USA wuchsen im zweiten Quartal um 43 Prozent auf 334 Millionen US-Dollar vom zweiten Quartal 2009 ausgehend. Die internationalen Einnahmen nahmen vom zweiten Quartal 2009 ausgehend im zweiten Quartal 2010 um 53 Prozent auf 340 Millionen US-Dollar zu. Die Einnahmen aus Lizenzien waren 324 Millionen US-Dollar, das sind 42 Prozent mehr als im zweiten Quartal 2009. Die Einnahmen aus Dienstleistungen inklusive Software-Wartung und Professional Services betrugen 350 Millionen US-Dollar, das sind 54 Prozent mehr als im zweiten Quartal des Vorjahrs.

Recent Highlights & Strategic Announcements

- On July 13, 2010, VMware announced VMware vSphere 4.1, an updated version of VMware's flagship virtualization and cloud infrastructure platform. With VMware vSphere 4.1, VMware once again sets the bar in virtualization, coupling dramatic scalability and performance enhancements with new management capabilities to deliver the most powerful foundation for cloud computing. The announcement included additions to VMware's vCenter Family of management products and new packaging for the SMB market.
- In the second quarter 2010, VMware announced a series of moves to further its Open Platform-as-a-Service (Open PaaS) offerings and enable application portability across private and public cloud environments. The announcements included the acquisition of Gemstone, which introduces sophisticated data-caching capabilities; a new partnership with Salesforce.com, whereby Java and Spring framework developers will be able to deploy new applications into a cloud and leverage Salesforce.com capabilities; and a partnership with Google, whereby the Spring framework will be integrated with Google's App Engine.
- On June 10, 2010, VMware announced it is positioned by Gartner, Inc. in the Leaders Quadrant of the Gartner Magic Quadrant for x86 Server Virtualization Infrastructure. According to the report: “The x86 Server Virtualization Infrastructure market is a foundation for two extremely important market trends - infrastructure modernization and cloud computing.”
- On June 9, 2010, VMware and Novell announced an expansion to their partnership with an original equipment manufacturer (OEM) agreement through which VMware will distribute and support the SUSE® Linux Enterprise Server operating system at no additional cost to vSphere customers. With this agreement, customers can more easily and cost-effectively virtualize Linux applications, accelerate their evolution to a fully virtualized datacenter and simplify portability of their applications to cloud environments.

VMware plans to host a conference call today to review its second quarter results and to discuss its financial outlook. The call is scheduled to begin at 2:00 p.m. PT/ 5:00 p.m. ET and can be accessed via the Web at <http://ir.vmware.com>. The webcast will be available live, and a replay will be available following completion of the live broadcast for approximately 30 days.

Forward-Looking Statements

This press release contains forward-looking statements including, among other things, statements regarding VMware's third quarter and annual revenue projections, the value of our technology and products to customers and its role in information technology infrastructures and cloud computing, our plans for future investments and partnering with our customers and the development and implementation of our Open PaaS offerings for private and public cloud environments with customers and business partners such as Salesforce.com and Google. These forward-looking statements are subject to the safe harbor provisions created by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Actual results could differ materially from those projected in the forward-looking statements as a result of certain risk factors, including but not limited to: (i) adverse changes in general economic or market conditions; (ii) delays or reductions in consumer or information technology spending; (iii) competitive factors, including but not limited to pricing pressures, industry consolidation, entry of new competitors into the virtualization market, and new product and marketing initiatives by our competitors; (iv) factors that affect timing of license revenue recognition such as product announcements and beta programs; (v) our customers' ability to develop, and to transition to, new products and computing strategies such as cloud computing and IT-as-a-service, (vi) the uncertainty of customer acceptance of emerging technology; (vii) changes in the willingness of customers to enter into longer term licensing and support arrangements; (viii) rapid technological and market changes in virtualization software and platforms for cloud and desktop computing; (ix) changes to product development timelines; (x) VMware's relationship with EMC Corporation, and EMC's ability to control matters requiring stockholder approval, including the election of VMware's board members; (xi) our ability to protect our proprietary technology; (xii) our ability to attract and retain highly qualified employees; (xiii) the successful integration of acquired companies and assets into VMware; and (xiv) fluctuating currency exchange rates. These forward looking statements are based on current expectations and are subject to uncertainties and changes in condition, significance, value and effect as well as other risks detailed in documents filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including our most recent reports on Form 10-K and Form 10-Q and current reports on Form 8-K that we may file from time to time, which could cause actual results to vary from expectations. VMware assumes no obligation to, and does not currently intend to, update any such forward-looking statements after the date of this release.
